ZIONISTS REDOUBLE PRESSURE ON HOME OFFICE

JEWS WANT TO BAN OUR UNION JACKS

JEWISH community leaders are putting pressure on the government to pass a new law which would render it illegal for patriotic Britons to parade with the Union Jack in their own native land.

The Jewish leaders admit that this campaign is aimed at the National Front, and that it is only part of a much wider campaign by the Board of Deputies of British Jews to secure changes to the Public Order Act designed to prohibit all public manifestations of British nationalism.

Last month we revealed that the senior civil servant (Neville Nagler) who heads the department at the Home Office which deals with 'race relations' matters and who briefs government Ministers is a Jewish community activist who maintains regular contact with the Board of Deputies.

On Monday, 26th October Nagler's boss, Home Secretary William Whitelaw, attended a private Jewish Board of Deputies rally. During the question time Whitelaw was asked if he would render illegal the use by the National Front of the Union Jack.

Whitelaw replied that the NF's use of the Union Jack was "deeply offensive" to him and that he would indeed consider introducing a law to ban the "political misuse" of the flag.

Earlier in the meeting Whitelaw expressed his gratitude for "the support and sometimes constructive criticism" of the Board of Deputies.

He also admitted that it was pressure from the Board of Deputies and one of its 'front' organisations – the Joint Committee Against Racialism – which prompted him to set up last February an official Home Office inquiry into "racialist organisations" and "racial attacks".

WHITELAW PRIMED

Whitelaw had been cunningly primed for the question about banning the NF's use of the Union Jack by an Asian delegate to last October's Conservative Party annual conference.

At the conference the delegate declared that she had taken a party of West Indian waifs to see the Royal Wedding and that the children were petrified by the spectacle because they thought it was a National Front march!

This almost certainly apocryphal story was given a lot of serious media publicity.

This campaign to ban the NF's use of the Union Jack is of course redolent with the hypocrisy which is the hallmark of so many Jewish-Zionist campaigns:

The Board of Deputies has campaigned successfully to make "racial discrimination" unlawful when practised by White Gentiles – but they insist on the right to preserve the racial exclusivity of the Jewish community.

They relentlessly campaign against manifestations of Nationalism on the part of British people in their own native land, yet insist upon the right of Jewish people in Britain to be stridently Nationalist – in support of Israel.

Now they seek to ban the NF's "political use" of the Union Jack, yet they use our nation's flag in conjunction with Israel's flag in support of the Zionist cause – as the badge of the Conservative Friends of Israel demonstrates.

Sensible Jewish people should act now to restrain the wilder excesses of their Zionist leaders before they stoke up the fires of anti-semitism.

HORRIFIC RACIAL ATTACKS ON WHITE OLD FOLK

LOOK at the battered face of the old lady in the photograph. She is just one of hundreds of White old folk who have become victims of an upsurge of racially-motivated robbery attacks by gangs of Black thugs in recent months.

The story of the old lady in the photograph was told in a special report published on 17th September in the Wolverhampton Express and Star:

"When a frail 83 year old Smethwick woman opened her front door a few days ago, she was butted in the face and beaten to the ground with a blow that left her face a mass of blood and bruises.

"As she lay dazed on the floor the intruder ransacked her home, stealing her pension book and £100. It was the second time she had been attacked in a year."

The report went on to deal with attacks on two pensioners in their homes at West Bromwich, and an attack on a pensioner in his home in Handsworth.

One of the West Bromwich victims, an 81 year old woman, suffered very severe bruising. The Handsworth victim was threatened with a knife before his home was ransacked.

ALL BLACK

According to the article, all the thugs involved in all these incidents were Black.

Mrs. Dorothy Bishop, district organiser of the Wolverhampton WRVS, who runs several clubs for the elderly, concluded the article by saying:

"There's no doubt it's a terrifying situation. Old people are very frightened."

The victimisation of White old folk by Black gangs is by no means confined to the West Midlands. On 13th October the London New Standard reported:

"Old folk who hoard their savings at home are putting their lives at risk, warn Police. Hundreds have become victims of vicious thieves who beat them up for the contents of their cash boxes. Three have been murdered.

"Now Police and social workers in the East End have launched a big campaign to persuade Tower Hamlets' 27,000 pensioners to put their savings in banks or building societies.

"Recently an 82 year old woman was robbed of £2,000 by two men posing as Gas Board officials who threatened to cut her head off.

"Police point to the soaring number of murders and robberies involving the old."

"... butted in the face and beaten to the ground with a blow that left her face a mass of blood and bruises ..."

SPECIALISED

This report was prompted by the conviction at the Old Bailey of three thugs – two West Indians, one Turk – who specialised in raiding the homes of White old folk in the Tower Hamlets area of East London.

One of the West Indians had a girl friend who was employed by the local Council as an old folks home help. She gave information about her clients to the gang leader.

The victims of the gang were not only very old – their ages ranged from 72 to 98 – but severely infirm.

One had a heart pacemaker, another was deaf and confined to a wheelchair, another was so crippled with arthritis that he could only walk with the assistance of a frame.

These old folk were, variously, threatened with knives, beaten up, bound and gagged, or otherwise terrorised – and, of course, robbed.

Next time you hear some Community Relations propagandist yapping about "White racist violence" we hope you call to mind the suffering of these White old folk, and the face of the old lady from Smethwick.

S.D.P.: THE LAST RABBIT IN THE ESTABLISHMENT'S HAT

THE ESTABLISHMENT is worried that Margaret Thatcher's policies could result in a massive win at the next General Election for an increasingly Marxist Labour Party. Thus the Establishment needs a safe 'alternative' party to sop up a substantial anti-Tory protest vote. Hence the Social Democratic Party.

The SDP phenomenon is not the product of the excellence of those who lead it. Their inability to put up an effective fight against the Red take-over of the Labour Party when they were leaders of it shows what poor metal they are made of. Nor is it the product of appealing policies. The SDP has advanced no policies – other than a commitment to the Common Market and race-mixing.

The phenomenon can only be explained in terms of the power of the mass media to stampede the masses to support any fad – hula-hoops, 'The Twist', Princess Diana's hairstyle – no matter how inane. The SDP gimmick may well be effective in keeping Labour out at the next election. But should the SDP find itself called upon to form a government the public will soon realise that they did not secure a new direction for Britain but simply a rehash of the same policies which brought Britain to crisis under previous Tory and Labour administrations. That will be the time for those offering genuine alternatives to step forward.

NF News seeks to persuade its readers to feel angry about the evils of multi-racialism and to direct their anger solely at the corrupt politicians who created a racial problem in Britain, and not to the Immigrant people in general. "Racialism" is NOT unlawful – only "racial hatred".

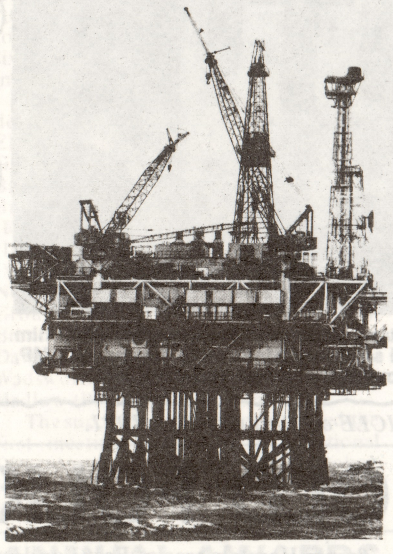
TORIES SELL OFF BRITAIN'S OIL TO KEEP THE BANKERS SWEET

UNDER successive Conservative and Labour administrations the pressures of the usurious international financial system have been forcing Britain towards the abyss of bankruptcy. As a result the Government has now decided that the only way to pay the interest on Britain's massive debts is to sell off one of the nation's vital assets: North Sea oil.

Because of the Conservative Government's catastrophic policies, which have caused soaring interest rates on these debts, they are grossly overspending this year and their own forecasts predict overspending of £5,000 million next year.

Energy Secretary Nigel Lawson: he masterminded the sale of our oil to his cousins in the usury fraternity.



This oil rig should be pumping out wealth for Britain, not for alien monopolists.

To cover this colossal gap they are now preparing to sell off this nation's future prosperity. It is like a farmer, who has suffered a bad harvest, selling off his seed corn which he ought to be sowing to produce the following year's crop.

While the sale is being publicised as giving the small investor the chance to participate in North Sea oil, the vast majority of the shares will be sold to City financial institutions and to the multinational oil companies.

Because 51% of the shares of the British National Oil Corporation's North Sea oil production interests are up for sale, there is no guarantee that control of this vital resource will even remain in Britain.

CUT PRICE

It is estimated that the Government will raise £750 million from sales of shares in the British National Oil Corporation and £200 million from the sale of 50% of the Wytch Farm Oilfield in Dorset, they are also expected to raise £700 million from the sale of the North Sea assets of British Gas.

Yet the true value of these assets is vastly greater than this. The Government will have to sell off the shares cheaply because the Labour Party has announced that it will attempt to re-nationalise those assets.

Not all the money raised by the sale of shares will go to the Government. The sale will be handled, as always, by one of the City finance houses. These finance houses charge commission for handling the sale, and their bill for the sale of £1,500 million of oil and gas shares will be vast.

The recent sale of £224 million worth of shares in Cable and Wireless was handled by Kleinwort, Benson & Co., a firm not noted for their patriotic zeal.

Both North Sea oil and gas are limited resources which will become more valuable year by year. The profits from the production of oil would, if managed properly, increase consistently and allow Britain to invest in new sources of energy and in modernising British industry. This limited resource could be exploited at a rate which would bring Britain the greatest possible benefit.

JOBS AT RISK

With this proposed sale the Conservatives are selling Britain's control of her own resources. Britain will no longer be able to insist that the oil is brought back to Britain to be refined. Instead the oil companies will be able to ship the crude oil to any refinery in the world, causing the loss of thousands of British jobs.

This could cause massive unemployment not only in the oil industry, but in a whole range of other industries which depend on the availability of oil supplies. The chemical and plastic industries are the most directly affected but any disruption of these industries would leave hardly any sector of the economy unaffected.

With the production of North Sea oil under British control the supply and price could be regulated to ensure the survival and growth of these industries, the loss of control will throw them to the mercy of the world oil market.

Our economy will come to depend more heavily on the policies of Middle Eastern governments than on the wishes of the British people.

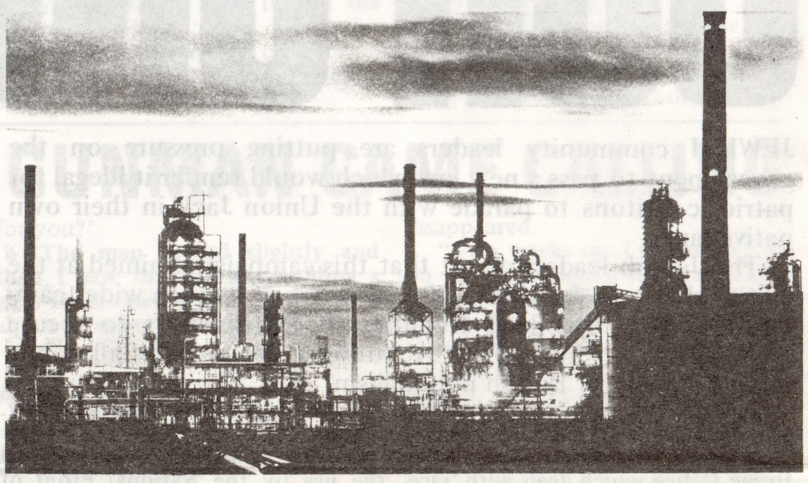
BRITAIN'S NEEDS

Over the last ten years the firms which have supplied the North Sea oilfields have been one of the very few growth industries in Britain. Even now a large part of the equipment in use to drill for oil is of German, Japanese or American manufacture.

When the British National Oil Corporation simply becomes another giant multinational the needs and requirements of Britain will be the last consideration when purchasing equipment.

In the late 1960's and early 1970's Conservative and Labour politicians announced that North Sea oil would enable Britain to invest massively in revitalising British industry and that this would allow Britain to lead the world in the new high technology industries.

Instead, as a direct result of their policies, Britain is virtually bankrupt.



Once ownership of Britain's oil fields passes into alien hands, then this and other oil refineries in Britain could close down.

This South Wales steel works – and hundreds of other factories in Britain – is derelict because British industry is starved of investment and denied protection from foreign competition.

Our major industries have declined or even disappeared. British Steel is a shadow of what it was, British Leyland is now lucky to achieve 20% of the UK car market and is struggling to survive. The list of goods which Britain is no longer able to produce is staggering.

If Britain had not had its reserves of North Sea oil then by now we would have become as bankrupt as General Bokassa's Central African Republic.

Our corrupt politicians have used North Sea oil, not as a massive stimulus to British industry, but as a means of buying a few more years in power.

The enormous oil revenue which could have been used to finance a desperately-needed second Industrial Revolution in Britain will now be sucked into the black hole of international usury-capitalism.

What will our treacherous politicians be selling off next to keep the bankers sweet? The Crown Jewels? The Isle of Wight . . .?

ULSTER LOYALISTS MUST UNITE TO STOP SELL-OUT

BETRAYAL by gradual degrees. That is the course that the Conservative government has embarked upon as its 'solution' for the continuing crisis in Northern Ireland.

First details of the scheme started to emerge following the recent Downing Street talks between Margaret Thatcher and Dr. Garret Fitzgerald, Prime Minister of the Irish Republic – talks which were preceded by months of secret negotiations.

The Tories cannot come out openly and say that they have resolved to sever Northern Ireland from the United Kingdom and to assist with the absorbtion of the Province into the Irish Republic because they have continually promised that they would never embark on such a process without the consent of the majority of Northern Ireland's population.

But they have quite plainly signalled that betrayal is on the agenda by agreeing to set up liaison councils between Irish Republic and Northern Ireland civil servants and by contemptuously refusing to assist P&O Ferries to maintain the vital ferry link between Liverpool and Belfast.

The Tories hope to break down the resistance of Northern Ireland's Loyalist majority to absorbtion by the Republic by progressively promoting the fusion of the economies of the Province and the Republic.

As a part of this cynical "The Flag Follows Trade" approach, the new North-South civil servants liaison set-up will negotiate the supply of electricity from Ulster to the South in return for supplies of gas from the Republic.

SUNNINGDALE REHASHED

In short, this latest scheme is little more than a rehash of the Sunningdale Agreement negotiated between Tory Prime Minister Edward Heath and Republic Prime Minister Liam Cosgrave at the end of 1973.

The Tories are making a grave mistake if they judge the political motivation of Ulster's Loyalist majority by their own motivations: materialism, opportunism, financial greed and cowardice.

Time and again the Loyalists have demonstrated that they are prepared to undergo great privation and danger in order to defend their status as members of the British nation.

The Sunningdale conspiracy was defeated by a massive campaign of industrial action on the part of Loyalists – co-ordinated by the Ulster Workers Council.

That is precisely the kind of organisation and action that is required to smash this latest Tory-Republic conspiracy.

All genuine Loyalist groups in Northern Ireland must sink any personality or tactical disagreements which may presently exist in order to form a unified front capable of winning the support of the Loyalist population.

Latest news is that Loyalist and Unionist parties and groups have already embarked on negotiations to secure a unified structure. The National Front wishes those negotiations every success.

British patriots everywhere else must also unite to ensure that the Loyalists are victorious in the coming struggle.

NF A.G.M. POINTS WAY TO RADICAL CHANGE IN BRITISH SOCIETY

A Party of Democracy

Hundreds of NF members from all parts of Britain attended the meeting. Any member who wanted to could speak to any of the resolutions on the agenda, and many lively debates resulted – all of which were settled by majority vote.

MORE than four hundred members of the National Front gathered in London on 11th October for the Party's Annual General Meeting.

News about what was debated and decided at the meeting – indeed, news that the meeting had even taken place – was totally suppressed by the 'news' media. Why?

Because the media is coordinated in a campaign to project the NF as: " . . . an enemy of democracy . . . a gang of thugs with no policy other than racism . . . not a genuine political party."

Thus had the media reported the AGM it would have had to report FACTS about the party which would disprove their propaganda concoctions – FACTS such as these:

- The leadership of the party is elected by annual postal ballot of the party's membership. (This is a far more democratic procedure than that adopted by any of the Parliamentary parties.)
- The party has a published Constitution which regulates the party's affairs and determines the rights of members and the authority of party officials and which cannot be altered without the consent of two-thirds of the membership voting at an AGM. (Contrast this with the 'block-vote' swindles that are perpetrated at the annual conferences of the Labour Party and TUC!)
- The policies of the party are evolved by members at AGM's debating and voting on resolutions submitted by members – and the fundamental ideological principles of the party cannot be changed without the consent of two-thirds of the membership voting at an AGM. (Contrast this with the deceptions, double-talk and betrayals perpetrated by the leaders of the Parliamentary parties!)
- The issues debated at NF AGM's included National Defence, the Banking System, Property Rights, Agriculture, a Bill of Rights, the Reform of the Legal System, and the Public Order Act in addition to the Race Crisis.
- The membership of the NF comprises men and women of all ages from a wide cross-section of backgrounds who are possessed both of a sincere desire to make Britain great again and a wide range of thoughtful ideas to bring this about.
- The leadership of the party are intelligent, articulate and determined people who exert authority not because they are vested with dictatorial powers but because they plainly enjoy the goodwill and support of the rank-and-file membership.

It was because these facts were so evident at the NF's AGM, and because they run so counter to the false 'image' of the NF that the media strives to present, that not a word about the meeting was printed in any newspaper or broadcast on any TV or radio station.

"Enemies of democracy" do indeed exist in Britain today. They skulk in the corridors of power and infest the boardrooms and editorial offices of the mass media.

We devote this page to coverage of the NF AGM to try and counteract in some small way the undemocratic censorship of Britain's deplorable 'news' media.

A Party of Leadership

BAN BANKERS' USURY

THIS AGM repudiates the claim by the Monetarist school of economics, as represented in Britain by the Thatcher government, that inflation is caused primarily by excessive wage claims and by excessive government spending on social services. This meeting asserts that interest payments on government borrowing from the banks is the greatest single cause of inflation. As long as governments continue to borrow from international banking institutions, inflation will continue to afflict the British economy, regardless of wage rises or government spending on social services. This meeting regards as immoral and counter-productive the present cuts in government spending which have led to suffering among a large section of the population. The National Health Service, educational facilities, housing and the transport system have all been hit hard by the current government expenditure cuts, yet the government continues to direct thousands of millions of pounds to international usurers. This meeting holds that wealth created by the hard work of the British people must not find its way into the coffers of plutocratic international bankers but must be re-invested in Britain. Consequently, this AGM resolves that a future National Front government would cease to make capital and interest payments to the bankers in respect of 'loans' which were not made in the form of real wealth but were the product of the bankers' capacity to create money out of nothing by means of an entry in their ledgers.

BILL OF RIGHTS NEEDED

THIS AGM calls upon the Policy Department of the National Front to promulgate National Front support for a Bill of Rights. The whole of the experience of the National Front indicates that individuals and groups within society can have what are commonly held to be basic democratic rights denied or frustrated by the various organs of the State and by powerful Establishment controlled institutions such as the mass media. The NF should commit itself to proclaiming that all groups which do not take up arms against the state or promote criminality or treason should be able to exercise fundamental rights such as the right of free speech and the right of assembly – and the right of access to the facilities upon which those fundamental rights depend – regardless of whether or not they dissent from so-called 'orthodox' views on society and politics. This meeting calls upon the Policy Department to begin the necessary research and discussion preparatory to the production of firm policy proposals on this subject.

REFORM LEGAL SYSTEM

THIS AGM regrets to note that the cynical quip "British Justice is the best Justice money can buy" is still very apposite. While in the area of Criminal Law the Legal Aid system enables every accused person of humble means to secure adequate professional legal representation where they face a serious charge, the area of Civil Law is still very much the preserve of the super rich. It is for this reason that fabulously wealthy newspaper or broadcasting corporations feel safe in perpetrating defamations. It is for this reason that financial sharp operators who function in the grey area of what may be held to be unlawful and what is manifestly criminal are able to loot trusting investors. It is the reason why government and local government bodies are able to perpetrate the most diabolical acts of bad faith and tyranny against the public they are supposed to serve. A system of Civil Law which can only be used by the very rich makes nonsense of the notion of "the rule of Law" and "where there is a wrong, there must be a remedy". Therefore this meeting calls upon the Policy Department of the National Front to commit the NF to a wholesale reform of the legal system of this country so as to render access to Justice the right of all and not the privilege of the few.

FARMLAND FOR FARMERS

THIS AGM affirms that whilst a radical transformation in the ownership and structure of British industry is held to be essential to the National Front's demand for a National Revolution, it nevertheless recognises that the cornerstone of national regeneration is the revitalisation of British agriculture. The development of Monopoly Capitalism and international free trade has greatly undermined agriculture to the detriment of the true national economy and has also seriously eroded our capability to survive as a free and prosperous nation with a healthy population. In consequence, this AGM affirms that the foremost objectives of a future NF government will be: (A) The confiscation of all agricultural lands presently held by multinational companies, merchant banks, syndicates of speculators and all other capitalist formations. This must be done without any compensation to the institutions concerned, save that the interests of the individual small investor will be protected; (B) The redistribution of confiscated land to as large a number of Britons as is feasible that are held to possess honesty, ability, determination and character. The object of this process is to create that agricultural Yeomanry and national self-sufficiency which is indispensable to any prosperous community.

EXTEND OWNERSHIP

THIS AGM reaffirms the traditional National Front belief in the principle of private property and believes that ownership of industrial and commercial property must be as widespread as possible in order: to fulfill an inherent need for private property in all human beings; to provide all employees with an incentive to work and a link with the product of their labour; and to prevent large industrial and commercial concerns from undermining the sovereignty of the nation state. A National Front government will achieve this by: the encouragement of small and medium-sized businesses; tax incentives for employees (and their dependants) to purchase shares in the companies for which they work, and equivalent disincentives from the holding of shares by people with no other connection with the company; and the encouragement of worker co-operatives where appropriate.

KEEP BRITAIN'S BOMB

THIS AGM affirms the National Front's belief that Britain must possess her own independent nuclear deterrent, including the capacity to design and manufacture her own nuclear hardware. Such a deterrent is necessary to deter attack on our country either from the Communist Eastern Bloc or from the Zionist-Capitalist West. However, this meeting shares the concern of many Britons about the presence of US Cruise and Trident missiles on British soil, and affirms that a National Front government will ensure that only troops and weapon systems under British military and political control will be allowed to base themselves in Britain.

Other resolutions carried . . .

. . . expressed support for the Herstigte Nationale Party of South Africa and opposition to the liberal-reformism of the Botha regime . . . denounced the bogus claim of the Social Democratic Party to be a genuine alternative to the Old Gang parties . . . promised support for all NF members currently facing Race Relations Act prosecutions . . . affirmed NF repatriation policy . . . demanded that the report of the Home Office inquiry into "racist attacks" be published . . . and called upon the Home Secretary to remove the Jewish community activist Neville Nagler from his post as head of the Home Office race relations department.

SPLINTERS

IN THE year which followed the NF's 1979 AGM – which attracted 400 delegates and raised £1,200 – the party experienced internal divisions which led to the formation of two splinter groups: the 'Constitutional Movement' and the 'New National Front'.

Leaders of both splinters persistently claim to have won over "the majority" of the NF's membership.

The NNF held its 'Members Meeting' in September of this year. It attracted 70 people at its morning session. This swelled to 135 in the afternoon with the admission of members of a British Movement splinter group. A collection of £380 was 'topped-up' to £400.

There has been no news of a CM meeting.

This year's NF AGM attracted more than 400 members who donated £2,784 – an all-time record.

Many of the 200 people who paraded in support of Nick Griffin were school leavers who face years on the dole. 'Community Relations' creeps lavish attention on unemployed Black youth. Only the NF stands up for White youngsters.

"KEEP FIGHTING FOR US, NICK!"

THE SDP/Liberal 'Alliance' steamroller, massively backed by the media, crushed everything in its path in the Croydon North-West by-election on 22nd October.

When the NF last fought this constituency in October 1974 it won just over 1,000 votes. This time the NF vote, added to that of an NF splinter group, was half the 1974 figure.

The Conservative and Labour parties fared equally badly – both their previous votes were also slashed in half.

The media were a lot more disappointed by Nick Griffin's result than Nick! They put the Lib/SDP, Tory and Labour votes in order, then jumbled up the order of the other nine candidates. The Times put Nick BOTTOM of the poll even though he came fourth! So much for "The Paper of Record"!

HARD WORK

The 429 votes for the NF candidate, 22 year old Cambridge law graduate Nick Griffin, were not the product of a half-hearted campaign. The candidate and teams of activists from many London branches toiled ceaselessly.

A fine election address went to every household through the post, and every household also received at least two supplementary leaflets. This work was supplemented by postering, loudspeakering and sustained door-to-door newspaper sales/canvassing.

The Police acted to prevent the NF campaign making a special impact by banning an NF march from Thornton Heath to the school in Norwood which the NF had hired for an election rally on Saturday 17th October.

A hastily re-arranged march around the borders of the Croydon borough to the school was no substitute for a march in the constituency.

POLICE TACTICS

The Police, it seems, were terrified of upsetting the relatives of the 15 young Blacks who live in the Thornton Heath area and who currently face charges in connection with the slaying of White youth Terry May on 1st June.

A massive and intimidating Police presence on the NF march and around the meeting hall had the inevitable (and no doubt, intended) effect of frightening away members of the public who might otherwise have attended the meeting.

Nonetheless, despite the best efforts of the Establishment, Nick Griffin came fourth in the 12 candidate field. The Constitutional Movement splinter-group spoiler came seventh with 111 votes.

Nick Griffin, 22, is determined to devote his life to the fight for a future for White youngsters.

EVENIN' ALL!

These members of the public listened to Nick Griffin's election speech with rapt attention – but they got out of contributing to the election by claiming to be Special Branch officers!

JOE TO FACE THIRD TRIAL

BULLDOG Editor Joe Pearce, 20, is to face a third Old Bailey trial on the same set of Race Relations Act "incitement" charges that he has faced twice before.

And – just to show how serious the authorities are about their vendetta – he has also been charged with another similar Race Act offence. The new charge relates to Bulldog issue No. 24.

As with his previous two appearances at the Old Bailey this year, Joe faces an "expedited trial" – that is, the authorities are more anxious to try and clap Joe in jail than people facing charges or murder, rape, drug-pushing and armed robbery!

Joe's trial is expected to be called on in December. A new issue of Bulldog, No. 25, has just been published.

ALL THE FUN OF THE FAIR!

REVENGE! Many NF members who have experienced the lash of Martin Webster's tongue on marches and demos were able to get their own back at a garden party organised by the NF's environmentalist group, British Heritage, and held in Carshalton on 26th September. For 5p a go, they were able to hurl wet sponges at the National Activities Organiser! This stall was very popular, and raised £40. This and other stalls raised a total of more than £250.

THE NIGHT A GUNMAN CAME CALLING

A GUNMAN called at the Battersea, South London, home of NF National Activities Organiser Martin Webster at 9.00 p.m. on the evening of Friday 13th November.

Mr. Webster was out at the time and the tenant of another flat in the building opened the front door. This was his account of the incident:

"When I opened the door I found a man standing on the front step with his back to me, and in a position that indicated that his hands were clasped in front of his face.

"I said, 'Yes – what can I do for you?'

"The man turned slightly and then I saw that he was holding a gun. He seemed poised as if he was about to swing round and fire.

ARMED POLICE

"After looking at me, the man left without a word. He was White, fair-haired, 5ft 10ins. and wearing a suit.

"When he left I called the Police, but when they arrived the man had disappeared.

"Two weeks ago I noticed a man on the other side of the road taking photographs of our building. When I opened the curtains to get a better look at him he made off quickly."

Lavender Hill Police later confirmed that they had sent two armed officers to investigate.

- On 22nd October Meir Kahane, leader of the Jewish Defence League, an internationalist terrorist group with a 'British' branch, was barred from entering Britain.

NATIONAL DIRECTORATE ELECTION RESULTS

THE counting of votes in the annual elections to the NF National Directorate – the party's governing body – took place on Saturday 26th September.

The elections took place in accordance with the terms of the amendment to the NF Constitution carried at the 1980 NF AGM which fixed the number of Directorate places at 18 and determined that six of these would fall vacant each year in rotation.

The results of the election, in descending order, were as follows:–

ELECTED: Philip Gegan* (Leicester Group); Michael Salt (Wandsworth Branch); Peter Williams (Norwich Branch); Terry Denville-Faulkner* (Richmond Group); Paul Johnson* (Dover & Deal Group) and Mark Spong* (Merton Group).

NOT ELECTED: Graham John (Brent Group); Alice Fairey (Bradford Group); Brent Cheetham (West Herts Group); David Jones (Manchester Branch); Barry Wadsworth (Halifax Group) and Ron Hadlow (Portsmouth Branch).

The successful candidates attended the first meeting of the 1981/82 National Directorate on Saturday 3rd October, joining the current members of the body:– Ian Anderson (Newham Branch); Andrew Brons (Harrogate Group); Mrs. Peggy Caine (Havering Branch); John Fishwick (Wallasey Group); Nick Griffin (Croydon Branch); R. Paul Matthews (Leicester Group); Mrs. Beryl Mitchell (NF British Heritage Group); Joe Pearce (Barking Branch); David Riley (Accrington Group); Richard Verrall; Martin Webster (Wandsworth Branch) and Blaise Wyndham, President of the National Front (Brent Group).

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

At the meeting it was announced that as no Directorate member had been nominated to contest for the posts of Chairman and Deputy-Chairman of the Directorate, last year's Chairman, Andrew Brons and last year's Deputy-Chairman, Richard Verrall, were re-elected for a further term nem con.

As a result, Mr. Brons and Mr. Verrall were automatically re-elected for a further term as Chairman and Deputy-Chairman, respectively, of the Executive Council of the National Directorate.

An election was conducted for the other four places on the Executive Council, and the following Directorate members were elected unopposed: Ian Anderson*, Philip Gegan*, Michael Salt , and Martin Webster*.

The Directorate unanimously resolved to merge the Finance Department with the Administration Department and to create two new departments: the Fund-Raising Department and the Industrial Department.

Elections were conducted for the Chairmanship of Departments of the National Directorate, the results of which were as follows:–
